

How has the loop you drew (the attributes of you) affected your career in computing?

- What attributes are missing from the list?
- What attributes from the list haven't we talked about?

What groups of people are marginalized or discriminated against in computing?

One problem common to many marginalized groups is fitting into the "geek" or "programmer" culture.

- What are your experiences?
- What are some solutions?

What is your most positive experience as a woman in computing?